WeatherAction forecasts should be on TV!

Hilary Benn Minister of Environment has still not replied to Piers Corbyn’s offer to help the Government save lives by providing detailed forecasts to let them know if the UK will be deluged by floods again this summer - <http://www.weatheraction.com/docs/WANews10No10.pdf>

“If the Government take our forecasts we could make them free to the public and the BBC” said Piers. “Surely this is a no-brainer. The Met Office can’t do it but we can.

However he like all the major parties put Global Warming dogma before their duty to serve the public. I urge people to lobby politicians & the BBC on this. Loads of people want our detailed forecasts on TV”.
