

As Weather Action forecasts on Hurricane Irene continue to beat all comers:-

WeatherAction offers US Authorities advice on Irene and all Tropical storm threats to USA

USA citizens can see that WeatherAction forecasted the formation timing and track of Hurricane IRENE - the most dangerous East USA storm for many decades – from 85 days ahead while all others had no clue. Furthermore WeatherAction's 'EndGame' forecasts have consistently improved on official forecasts of IRENE's track in its final days; advice which if applied can reduce worry for millions and concentrate minds where concentration is most needed.

"We are a game-changer, a new paradigm, in forecasting", said Piers Corbyn astrophysicist of WeatherAction.com. "The best other forecast systems can do long range is statistical estimates of how many storms there might be in a season; whereas we can predict formation timing, region and track, storm by storm by storm, months ahead for the whole season with 85%+ success. USA citizens could benefit, lives can be saved and suffering reduced so we have spoken to officials and offered US National Hurricane centre, the US Dept of Homeland Security (Secretary Of State Janet Napolitano), FEMA and New York Mayor Bloomberg access to our advice. LETTER Right.

NY Long Island in IRENE sights

Piers put his Irene EndGame 4 warning in the letter to NOAA-NHC / DHS /FEMA /New York Mayor and suggests Irene may track more east than official models (below) suggest. "This is relatively better for New Jersey & NY City but worse for Long Island. Also our earlier statements mean IRENE strength as it nears NJ/NY could be higher than official views – CAT 2 rather than CAT 1" he said.

WeatherAction Letter to National Hurricane Centre / NOAA, copied to Dept of Homeland Security – Janet Napolitano / FEMA, and New York Mayor Michael Bloomberg.

Dear Chris, (Chris Vaccaro of NOAA/NHC)

It was excellent and an honor to speak to you in NOAA. As I explained we, WeatherAction, have made a game-changing breakthrough in LONG RANGE forecasting of Atlantic Region Tropical storms and trust NOAA / NHC & the USA Govt will be interested in using them to save lives and increase effective targeted preparedness (rather than whole swathes of the population getting agitated when only a fraction of them need be).

We have been very successful so far this season and in particular predicted the appearance of IRENE in terms of timing, formation region and track and furthermore our 'EndGame' forecasts have improved on official ones from your organizations. (NOTE we do not do a computerized track forecast from scratch but apply the perturbations arising from predicted solar activity effects through our Solar Lunar Action Technique (SLAT6b) theory to improve on whatever standard meteorology would say).

(Irene EndGame - IEG4 - Statement from WeatherAction 5pmedt 26Aug). In terms of track of Irene compared with edt2pm ('Official') track forecast we say with 70% confidence some rightward shift in track is likely so IRENE eye is likely to pass over further east parts of Long Island or perhaps to the east of Long Island rather than more inland.

Please let me know:

- Would NOAA/NHC be interested in our whole season 2011 forecast, which has been sold to operators in the insurance field but is not exclusive; and making use of it?
- Whom should we best contact?
- Would you also be interested in ongoing EndGame forecasts of landfall threatening Tropical Storms 2011? These are made public but we can also make earlier prognoses.
- Would you be interested in a whole season forecast for 2012?

Thank you for your attention
