

Piers Corbyn / WeatherAction have just released the new style USA Extreme weather Events & regional essence Forecast

The new style forecast for Jan 12– 31 in 5 weather periods (sample page below, see link for full access) has plenty of examples of Solar-lunar caused jet stream ‘freezing’ / blocking which Piers warned of in recent videos. He says “The impending snow and blizzards 12-14 Jan will hit NE USA with heavier snow and stronger winds than computer forecasts from one or two days ahead will expect. The world’s weather changed gear in late November and standard computer forecasts will continue to make serious errors all through this year and beyond.”

2011 - Another year of weather extremes warns Piers

“Solar-lunar driven major jet stream blocking will continue through January and the whole of 2011 giving more extreme cold and snowy / blizzardy spells in parts of USA, Britain and Europe though January continuing into February and then not the sort of Spring and Summer the warmists want. “The warmists will fail and fail again to predict what is coming and are now writing scripts to deceive the public into believing that cold is warm by showing you “data” which has had 62% of recording station they didn’t like removed (see videos & link below). On Britain & Europe he said (7 Jan) the mild(er) spell now is “as we forecast and it will end from around 12th Jan”.
