Will BBC & Govt give real science a chance?

The MetO-BBC much trumpeted burst of summer ready for the Olympic ceremony 27th July looks doomed to turn into the deluges Piers Corbyn ,WeatherAction, predicted 42 days ahead – and which Boris Johnson Mayor of London reported in The Telegraph. Piers says: “Our forecasts have been soundly beating all-comers. I offered to BBC to explain what shifts the jet stream, and announce Olympic weather and when the rains will properly end. They and the Govt are not interested and are hell-bent to hide the truth from the public and propagate silly forecasts and the failed methods and delusional nonsense of CO2-warmism. They must be stopped and the £42 Million the Met Office want for a supercomputer to get wrong answers quicker must be halted. What to do:-
