Essence of February 2014

Comment added 18 Dec

The huge swings and meanders in the Jet stream being experienced in line with our general prediction of 'Mini-Ice-Age / 'Wild Jet Stream Age' conditions means that the Brit+Ire weather is very sensitive to blocking positions. So, while there is no change from the note below small changes could make important modifications.

An additional point about East parts is added in dark blue

Wet, windy at times and mostly very mild.

- Wet and windy spells with floods likely in West
- Probably especially mild – a burst of Spring from around 18th.
- (added Dec18) East parts may get colder relative to normal spells at times than West so overall it is likely Ireland will be milder relative to normal than East / SE England.

General Confidence at 'Essence' stage Dec AB 80%, Jan B 75%, Feb AB 80%

(on scale A 85%, B 75%, C 65%)
